TRADE PROGRAM

SPRING 2026 RECAP & FALL 2026 VISION

The Spring 2026 semester was a tremendous success for the Eyes On Me Trade Program.

At The Hangar in Brookshire, students gained hands-on experience in electrical and plumbing through instruction from industry professionals. This semester, 47 students graduated, with three already securing employment opportunities.

At Godspoint, students developed carpentry skills while building Adirondack chairs and learning craftsmanship, teamwork, and tool safety. Beyond the classroom, students are applying their skills at home, serving their families and growing in confidence.

GROWING TO MEET THE NEED

As interest in the trades continues to increase, Eyes On Me is expanding. This fall, The Hangar will move into a new 3,875-square-foot trades building, creating space for more students, homeschool families, and community partnerships.

We are also developing a new trades program in Denver Harbor and exploring future welding, automotive, and adult trade classes to serve even more individuals seeking opportunity, mentorship, and hope.

SPRING 2026 RECAP & FALL 2026 VISION

None of this would be possible without our incredible volunteers, sponsors, and community partners.

Thank you to Kingsland Baptist Church, Lowe's, DeWalt, Katy Plumbing, Houston Interiors, and the many individuals who continue investing in the next generation through mentorship, resources, and opportunities.

Together, you are helping change lives and build a strong community.

LOOKING AHEAD TO FALL 2026

Students at The Hangar will learn the full construction process by working together to build a tiny home throughout the semester. This project will expose students to multiple trades while developing leadership, teamwork, and problem-solving skills.

At Godspoint, students will continue growing their carpentry skills by building coffee tables that will later be auctioned to support future ministry initiatives.

Everybody Loves Ian

"We have seen tremendous growth in interest surrounding the trades. Our youth are gaining valuable hands-on skills while also being mentored through our Starplayers Mentorship Program. They are learning to overcome challenges, heal from past hurts, and discover who God created them to be.

We are seeing this approach launch difference-makers back into their homes, families, and communities."
– Ian Norman

WE NEED YOUR HELP

EYES ON ME

As our programs continue to grow, so does the need for support.

We are currently seeking:
- Sponsors and donors
- Trade professionals and mentors
- Volunteers for Godspoint and Denver Harbor
- Donations of tools, PPE, building materials, and supplies for our Tiny Home Project

Your support helps us equip students with practical skills, meaningful mentorship, and opportunities for a brighter future.

TOGETHER, WE ARE BUILDING FUTURES, RESTORING HOPE, AND TRANSFORMING COMMUNITIES THROUGH THE LOVE OF JESUS CHRIST.
